Specialized Internship in Small Animal Internal Medicine and Specialized Internship in Small Animal Cardiology

The Division of Small Animal Internal Medicine, Department of Clinical Sciences, Faculty of Veterinary Medicine, University of Liège, Belgium, offers the following positions:
One intern in small animal internal medicine, starting September 1st, 2018.
One intern in small animal cardiology, starting September 1st, 2018.

This specialized internship implies a 1-year training programme. Candidates should preferably have successfully completed a 1-year rotating internship programme prior to this specialized internship, or have obtained equivalent experience in private practice. Candidates should have a good knowledge of the French language, in order to efficiently communicate with students and colleagues.

The programmes are under direct supervision of diplomates in the specialty. The intern will be in charge of patients and involved in clinical teaching to students and rotating interns, including some teaching activity at the charity dispensary.

The Faculty of Veterinary Medicine of the University of Liège has a well-equipped hospital. Caseload for small animals is around 10,000 cases a year. The actual small animal team includes diplomates in internal medicine (3 dipl. ECVIM-CA), surgery (5 ECVS), emergency and intensive care (1 ECVECC), diagnostic imaging (2 ECVDI), anaesthesiology (1 ECVAA), dermatology (1 ECVD), reproduction (1 ECAR), ophthalmology (2 ECVO), cardiology (2 ECVIM-CA cardiology) and nutrition (1 ECVN).

For additional information please contact Cécile Clercx, for internal medicine (cclercx@uliege.be) or Anne-Christine Merveille, for cardiology (acmerveille@uliege.be)
Applications should include updated curriculum vitae, a letter of intent, and 2 reference letters.(sent separately by the referent)

Applications and reference letters must be sent by email, before April 29th 2019, to C. Clercx (cclercx@uliege.be), for internal medicine and cardiology, with a copy to Nadine Fis (nadine.fis@uliege.be)