

*Département Clinique des Animaux de compagnie
Prof Annick Hamaide, DVM, PhD, Dipl ECVS*

RESIDENCY IN SMALL ANIMAL SURGERY

The Department of Companion Animals (Surgery section) of the University of Liège, Belgium is opening a position for a 3-year ECVS residency in Small Animal Surgery, starting August 1, 2021.

Pre-requirements are the completion of a one-year rotating internship or an equivalent practical experience.

Appropriate knowledge of French language is required in order to interact with pet owners and colleagues. Sufficient knowledge of English language is also required.

The Faculty of Veterinary Medicine of the University of Liège has a brand new small animal clinic and fully equipped surgery unit. Caseload for companion animals is around 13000 cases a year. The current team includes diplomates in internal medicine (4 dipl. ECVIM-CA), surgery (5 ECVS), emergency and intensive care (2 ECVECC), diagnostic imaging (3 ECVDI), anaesthesiology (1 ECVA), dermatology (1 ECVD), reproduction (1 ECAR), ophthalmology (2 ECVO), cardiology (1 ECVIM-CA cardiology) and nutrition (1 ECVN).

Deadline for application is April 15, 2021. Application should include a letter of intent, 3 letters of recommendation and an updated curriculum vitae and should be sent to Nadine Fis (Nadine.Fis@uliege.be).

For information regarding the residency program, contact:

- Prof. Annick Hamaide

Department of Companion Animal, ULiège
Quartier Vallée 2
Avenue de Cureghem, 3
4000 Liège Belgium
Phone: + 32 4 366 4206
E-mail: Annick.Hamaide@uliege.be